You're in control

With AllotMe, you're in complete control of the price of your plot, the available date, and who uses your space. Want to find out more about a Greenfinger? Just ask them a question before accepting the request.

Listing your space is free

It costs nothing to list your space on our platform. We only take a small percentage of the monthly rent when a Greenfinger confirms to start growing on your space.

Winter is always coming !

You know who tends to a garden, no matter what the weather? ...Vegetable growers ! Let a local Greenfinger start growing in your space now, and they'll tend to your plot throughout the Winter months.
